Animation Transcript

Mr Kere plays online games, often playing until very late as he loves to win every time!

One night a new player joins the game and turns out to be a great ally.

They both engage in the play until the teacher realises that the player is a student in his class. He chooses not to reveal himself to the student or that he knows about his playing games online.

Over time, the duo become a formidable gaming team successfully passing a number of levels and defeating a number of other players.

One day at school, the teacher sees the student's father (who he knows) outside the Principal's office.

The student's Dad tells the teacher that he has been called into school because Stanley is often late to school, and he has been falling asleep in class.
